

6 Global Oils & Fats Forum

Future of Oils and Fats: Assessing
Sustainability, Technology and Bioenergy

Monday, 5 October 2009 & Tuesday, 6 October 2009
JW Marriott Hotel, New Orleans, Louisiana

The American Palm Oil Council is pleased to announce its 6th Global Oils & Fats Forum. This year's forum is intended to give attendees a worldwide perspective on oils and fats, its trends and opportunities as well as updates on new developments, technical applications, formulations and latest sciences including latest developments in the biodiesel industry.

This forum follows a complex year for oils and fats surrounding global demand and supply, rising food prices and food insecurity worldwide, the high and low of commodity prices, challenges for trans fat reformulations, challenges for bio-fuel and passage of new legislations affecting food and energy and the changing dynamics affecting the oils and fats market. Speakers will analyze these and other issues and explore the opportunities for a better future in the oils and fats industry.
